FOUND BY THE TRACKS.

David Porter, an Aged Man, Dies from Concussion of the Brain.

David Porter was found by the crew of a switch engine lying beside the Panhandle tracks, near the Belt, yesterday morning. He was unconscious when found, and after removal to the City Hospital, it was found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain. His identity was disclosed by a letter found in his pocket. The letter showed that he had started from West Virginia to Glenwood, Mo., where his son, O. M. Porter, resides. It was a request to the conductors on the various roads over which he was to travel to look after him, as he was old and infirm and unable to care for himself. The letter named the roads over which he would travel in making the trip. It is presumed that when the train stopped at the Belt he attempted to get off and was thrown to the ground, receiving the injury which caused his death. In his pocket was $5.33 After being removed to the hospital he still remained unconscious and never recovered sufficiently to tell anything about himself. He died at 7 o'clock last night.

AGAIN, HE HELPS VERY MATERIAL-LY TO WIN THE BALL GAME.

Kansas City Goes Down for the Second Time in the Present Series-The Score.

McCarthy, long and lank, was not just certain when he stepped to the bat in the third inning that he would again save the day for Indianapolis, for the game was yet young. Jerhaps ball players have patron spirits of the air, or something of that sort; anyhow, when McCarthy pushed the ball away to the north it seemed to wiggle just above the open arms of Hernon, left fielder for the other side, and speed on toward the fence. And as Hernon had his hands where the ball wasn't it was a clean home run for McCarthy. Three runs resulted, and if it had not been for one of these runs Indianapolis would have lost the second game of the series to Kansas City. This new aspirant for rooter honors had occasion later in the game to pull down a long fly that would have otherwise tied the score or better. Save for the usual two bad plays by Mills, who afterward redeemed himself by an opportune hit. Indianapolis played an errorless game. The club had sufficient base hits to win a game and the other club didn't, but Donnelly's feeble control of the ball in the early part of the game gave the visitors lots of bases, five on balls and three for bruised spots which he placed on the anatomy of the gentlemen from the banks of the Kaw. There even came a wail from the rooters far out in the beech trees to have Donnelly taken out of the box, but, as they hadn't paid a cent since the season opened, Manager Sharsig calmly ignored them. Donnelly showed that he is what is called in race-track parlance a finisher, for he did much better towards the close of the game than he did in the first few innings. He gives considerable promise.

Klusman and Stallings got to first base in the second without any stick work, and the double of Beard and Niles's single gave the Boomtown people four runs. The bleachers went wild when the local team forged one run ahead of this in the next inning. Shields and Donnelly hit safely and McCarthy cleared the bases. Motz singled, Dalrymple hit for two bases, and shortstop Beard overthrew Murphy's grounder, letting in two runs. Kansas City threw the rooters into despair immediately afterwards by piling up four runs on a base on balls, three hits, a sacrifice by Klusman and a bruise on Niles's thigh. That was all Kansas City could do in the game, and no more than four men went to bat on that side in any inning that followed.

In the last six innings Kansas City only made four scattered hits. Sharsig's men bunched hits effectively in the fifth inning. Gray, Motz and Dalrymple following each other in succession. Murphy was the next man to bat and was presented with his first base. Mills singled, Shields made a sacrifice hit and Donnelly, timely enough, put the ball into right field for one base; total, four runs. In the next inning Motz got to first base after forcing Gray out at second. In this instance the ampire was exceedingly kind to Indianapolis in his decision. Dalrymple's hit sent Motz on his journey, and while Nicholl was fumbling the ball out in center field Motz came home. Mills opened the next inning with a of the box. Attendance, 1,600. Score: single, but it availed the club naught, for he was run down between third and home. Catcher Donahue, by his sharp throwing, headed off Henry and Gray at second in May Abandon the Encampment.

The question of abandoning the annual encampment of the State militia is now being discussed. The military officers do not favor abandoning it, as they say the militia has training and drills in camp such as they would not get in the service they see in strikes. There are forty-four companies of militia in the State, and thirty-one of them have been called out in the coal and railroad strikes. The calling out of the troops has cost the State considerable money, and the question of the cost of the encampment is one that is puzzling the State officials. The encampment to be held at Fairview Park this year for six days, if one is held, could be held at considerably less cost than the seven days' encampment at Terre Haute last year, which cost $19,000. This is due to the better railroad facilities

The New Music Supervisor.

Mrs. Wilkinson, who has received the appointment of supervisor of music for the Indianapolis public schools, was a former resident of this city, where her parents still live, and is better known to residents here as Miss Perle Rouse. She is an accomplished musician, and her qualifications for the position are indicated by the fact that she has served acceptably as chorus mistress for the Lyric and Covent Garden theaters of London, her duties consisting in training operatic choruses.

Arrests at New Albany. Deputy Marshal Taylor came in from

New Albany yesterday evening with Joseph Jameson, William Shellady and Samuel Daily, striking brakemen on the Air-line. The men were arrested in a crowd of several hundred strikers and offered no resistance to the officer. They said they had come back to go to work. They admitted having detached a Pullman sleeper on Sunday night. This road is in the hands of a receiver and the men expected to be arrested.

Ballot Box the Proper Course. The Indiana Legislative Council has passed resolutions declaring the present strike to be due to unjust economic conditions, and resolving that the ballot is the proper place to settle things. It calls upon laboring people not to vote for a Congressman who will not pledge himself to revise the laws that have been brought to bear against the labor organizations.

The Whole Difference.

The Outlook. Congress to pass a law prohibiting all use of Pullman cars on interstate-commerce lines until the Pullman Car Company reopened its works and re-employed its workmen; with what derision would the proposition have been received! But what they would then have attempted to do by lawful means they are now attempting to do by unlawful means; that is the whole dif-

THE STRIKE TROUBLE HERE AL-MOST A THING OF THE PAST. Bishop Chatard's Views on the Matter of Arbitration-Trains Moving on All Roads.

There has been a continuance of quietness in the strike here, and the railroad officials say that it is completely dead at this point. All of the passenger trains are running on time and freight trains are moved promptly on all the lines. About the Union Station there were no unusual crowds yesterday and last night, but the railroad officials were all at hand as usual, looking after the affairs of their roads. The reserve force at the police station was materially decreased, and a number of the regular patrolmen have been sent back to their old beats. Although the strike is believed to have ended here several days ago, a small reserve of police is still maintained

Superintendent Van Winkle says the Big Four is in good shape and all trains are running. On the St. Louis division the company has secured men to take the place of strikers, and those who went out will not be taken back in the employ of the company. The men who struck at Cincinnati will also find themselves without jobs. The only attempted interference with trains yesterday was at Fontanet, where a crowd of miners stopped a freight train for a while. Otherwise everything was quiet on all the system. The officials say that as soon as the troubles at Chicago are at an end the road will be in as good shape as it was before the strike began.

All was serene at the Governor's office, and the only indication that peace was not prevailing throughout the State was a pile of letters and telegrams upon the desk. These were from citizens over the State generally offering their services, if needed, to maintain peace and uphold the law. The usual telegram was received from Adjutantgeneral Robbins, announcing that perfect quiet prevailed at Hammond and Roby. The Governor has instructed the militia to arrest all violators of the injunction, and believes there will be no further disturbances of a serious nature in this State. United States Marshal Hawkins said last night that Fontanet was the only place in the State where there was any actual need for the presence of federal officers. Isaac Keeley, with a dozen special deputies, was ordered from Clinton to Fontanet, last night, to stop the trouble with the miners at that place. The marshal received tele-trains were moving all right. Deputy Marshal Stewart telegraphed from Whiting that things were quiet there and the presence of the militia had a salutary effect.

Bishop Chatard has expressed himself in favor of compulsory arbitration of labor troubles in cases where the men or capi talist will not enter into voluntary arbitra tion or where the arbitrators have failed to reach an agreement. He says he would favor a State arbitration board in each State and a national board for the general government to act in cases where laborers in more than one State are concerned. His idea is that the board be named by the Legislature for the States and by Congress, with the approval of the President, for the general government. In the State boards he would have at least two of the members State officials and at least one of them a representative of the laboring classes. He would give the board the power to compel the attendance of expert witnesses and to administer oaths and com pel witnesses to testify before it and make its decision binding upon both parties and refusal to comply with it punishable by fine, unless in case of appeal from the de cision of the arbitrating board. Bishop Chatard does not think this would be an infringement of individual rights, and says the rights of the public and people at large are paramount to the rights of any individual. He reasons that a man, even under the plea of individual rights, has no right to injure his neighbor and a man cannot be a judge in his own cause. He thinks both capital and labor needs regulating, and as the decision would be arrived at after careful study there is no taint of paternalism to attach to it.

At Strikers' Headquarters. A few of the local strikers are to be found at any hour of the day in the rooms at No. 33 South Illinois street. This is the headquarters of the local strike executive committee, and a club room for the striker's has been temporarily fitted up, while the officers have another room above. There are, however, never very many of the men around the room at one time, as the officers have requested them not to congregate there. Some of the men gather round a large table and while away the time by playing cards, others read the papers, while others talk or jest with each other. The strike, of course, is the principal topic of conversation, and some of the men, while hey are not in the least disloyal to the union, show by their talk that they are getting very tired of loafing and are anxlous for the end of the trouble. Telegrams and bulletins cover one side of the wall, and by these the men are kept posted as to the exact condition of affairs at all points, and they say they pay no attention to newspaper reports, for they cannot be depended on, while their messages are "offi cial." During the afternoon some of the men came in with their pockets full of copper cents. They had been out over the city selling the Chicago Times. This paper is sent in large numbers to the chairman of the strike committee here, and by means of the newsboys and some of the strikers they are distributed throughout the city. They claim that two thousand copies were disposed of. Mass Meeting of Strikers. The local lodge of the A. R. U. has called another mass meeting at Mozart Hall for Saturday night. An effort is being made to have speakers from Chicago present to address the meeting, but if the effort is unavailing, local speakers will be provided.

Strikes and the Drummer. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: Three hundred thousand commercial travelers go up and down the broad face of the United States trying to increase the business and industries of the country every day. They have never had an organization for the promotion of their pay or the protection of their places. It is conceded that they are intelligent, industrious and do a large volume of the business of the country. They believe that individual effort will do more to promote their interest and secure success than the system of organiza-Suppose the railroad employes had asked | tions that now prevails, which only minimize men to a common level. The commercial traveler is well paid because he depends alone on himself for success, and he is happy in the knowledge that the greater effort he makes the greater is his success and the larger his pay. Years ago I was a mechanic. I found that to be independent I must go into business or be a drummer. The field of commercial traveler offered the inducement of manly, independent effort and good pay if I succeeded. To-day this large body of men are cut in salaries more than any other class of employes in the country, owing solely to the depressed conditions of trade, but I respectfully ask has anyone heard a word of protest from commercial men? And, feeling as we do, we ask of the laboring men of this country, would it not be better to accept the best we can get now and push trade, industries, etc., as hard as possible, so that soon we may realize the good times again of 1892, instead of trying to destroy what little busir s and trade we have? Look over the siding, bountiful harvests; see the plenty of our land; make the best of it and work for better times, and better pay will come. Indianapolis, July 12.

ous Manuer

The name of Dr. R. C. Flower, of Boston, is well known. His miraculous cures of the most desperate and abandoned cases when given up as incurable by leading physicians has caused the Inter Ocean of Chicago, Cincinnati Enquirer and New York Tribune to say if miracles were ever performed, many of Dr. R. C. Flower's cures belong to that class of wonders. The Cincinnati Enquirer recertly interviewed numerous prominent people in all sections of the country regarding Dr. Flower's treatment of patients, at the station for any emergency that may | Here is what they say. They speak for

A Wonderful Cure.

William Mix, a prominent lawyer and wealthy gentleman of 1044 Third avenue, Louisville, Ky .: Dr. R. C. Flower, of Boston, Mass., cured my wife several years ago of the most terrible and dangerous diseases woman can be heir to. I consider Dr. Flower's cure of Mrs. Mix almost miraculous. I had spent thousands of dollars on prominent physicians in Louisville and New York without any help. After several months under the best specialists of New York she continued to grow worse, and I brought her home in the deepest despair. Under these conditions I took her to see Dr. Flower. He told her her trouble better than she could have told him, without asking a question. In a few months under Dr. Flower's treatment she was entirely cured, and has enjoyed ever since the finest health. As a physician Dr. Flower leads the world, I believe. He is a great man, his judgment is the highest authority. As a man Dr. Flower is one of the most pleasing, entertaining and cultured gentlemen you ever met, and a man of the highest integrity. Henry D. Posey, 615 Chestnut street, Evansville, Ind., said: "I Consider Dr. Flower the greatest physician in all the world. I don't believe there was ever such a doctor, and I doubt if there will ever be another, and I form my judgment from

"I was a living skeleton when I went to see Dr. Flower, over a year ago. I could not eat anything, not even milk, without great distress. I had wasted to a shadow; I had given un hope, and was given up. I resolved as a very last resort to consult Dr. Flower. I did so. He told me all my trouble without asking a question. Then I knew I was in the presence of a man who knew his business. I put myself under his care, and improved immediately, and am a sound, well man to-day. You can say for me I believe he has no equal Fibroid Tumor. Mrs. James E. Smith, of Corydon, Ind., said: "When I went to see Dr. R. C. Flower, about a year ago, I was suffering with a large advanced tumor. I had consulted and been treated by all the best doctors in this section of the country. They all advised an operation, and stated that unless I had one performed I would live but a few weeks, and it was by no means certain that an operation would help me. Dr. Flower told me my troubles, their origin and growth, without asking me a question. He stated that in his opinion an operation would prove fatal; on the other hand, he believed I could be successfully treated and cured without an operation. I placed myself under his treatment and began to improve immediately; to-day I am a well woman-no tumor, no pain, strong and happy. I wish every sick person knew of Dr. Paralysis and Tumor-A Miraele. Mrs. Wm. Deakyne, of Sheridan, Ind. said: "About a year ago I visited Dr. Flower. I was then helpless, in a paralyzed condition; went on crutches whenever I went out. A terrible tumor increased my already abnormal size rapidly. measured over three and a half feet around the waist and over four feet from hip to hip. The disease had settled in one limb, and I had no use of it; was also fast losing my eye-sight. My nerves were shattered, and I had no memory. Not one of my friends ever thought I could be helped. The physicians had given me u as incurable. Dr. Flower had told me my troubles without asking me a question, or how they came upon me. I took a course of treatment under him, and, thank God, I am to-day a well woman. Look at metumor gone, natural in size, sight restored, memory good, nerves like iron, no crutches -I can walk for a mile and not feel tired. Why, sir, I believe Dr. Flower to be the greatest man of this age. He is a marvei -a giant in his work. Several of my acquaintances he has cured in the same way.

The people in Sheridan speak of this cure as wonderful and miraculous," Consumption. "I was a sufferer with consumption," said Mrs. John D. Becker, 103 John street, Evansville, Ind. "I had doctored with numerous physicians without relief. As a last resort (and the lady laughed as she added, 'Dr. Flower is always the last resort,') I went to see Dr. R. C. Flower. He told me all about my troubles without asking me to say a word: So pleased was I with the examination that I placed myself under his care, and began to improve immediately, and to-day am a well woman. Ten months ago I could do no work, could scarcely walk, spent my time lying down or in a rocking chair; now I can so any kind of work, walk as much as when I was a young girl. I cannot speak too highly of my physician," said this cultured and refined woman. "Dr. Flower is a great man, an honest, candid man. He is smart, quick and keen, and wonderfully fascinating. I don't think the sick have any cause to fear if under his care."

Confirmed Invalid.

Mrs. Joseph Cromwell, Xenia, O., said: "I was a helpless and confirmed invalid when I went to see Dr. R. C. Flower. 1 could not walk 100 feet without sitting down. Besides, I was a nervous wreck, He diagnosed my case accurately. I began to improve immediately under his treatment. Can now skip, run and do what ! want. Am well. I think Dr. Flower a medical wonder."

Chronic Stomach Trouble. Rev. S. W. Keister, Dayton, O., sald "1 went to see Dr. R. C. Flower as a last resort. He told me my troubles better than I could have told him; he cured me of a dreadful stomach trouble and nervous exhaustion. I consider him the most wonderful physician living." Saved from a Fatal Operation. Mrs. C. E. McOmber, of Ballston Spa, N. Y., said: "Dr. R. C. Flower, of Boston. cured me of an enlarged, fallen, inflamed and ulcerated womb. An operation by numerous physicians was the only thing advised, with no hope held out of its being successful. I had been given up as incurable, and had given up all hopes of ever being cured, when, as a last resort, my husband took me to see Dr. R. C. Flower. was under his treatment for a few months. began to improve immediately, and in a few months was cured." Gastritis. Mrs. Etta Miller (wife of Mr. Miller, the merchant), of Binghamton, N. Y., says: "I had been a great sufferer for years with stomach trouble. I had been treated by the best physicians in New York, who all in time gave my case up as incurable. They and consumption of stomach and bowels. I Flower in the Sick Room.

As a last resort I consulted Dr. R. C. Flower, and he took my case, and in a few months I was permanently cured." Nervous Prostration.

Mrs. Joseph R. Sprague, Brewster, N. V. "I had been ill for ten years when I went to Dr. R. C. Flower. After the first month's treatment felt that he had helped me wonderfully. Was in a terrible condition; had nervous prostration and cancerous stomach trouble; also suffered with terrible headaches. Had been given up as incurable by all doctors and had given up all hope vuy self. But, thanks to Dr. Flower's skill. I am a well woman to-day and able to attend to my household duties and do just what I like. "He also cured my son of enlargement of the liver. "I don't believe there is any need of any one dying if they will place themselves under his care." Fungus Stomach.

Dr. Brooks, of Brooks & Evans, a prominent dentist of Portland, Me., said: "I am an admirer of Dr. R. C. Flower, I consider him the ablest physician of the age. Why, sir, he can tell a sick person his disease without knowing anything about him or asking him a question, just as easy as he would read his name. He has most successfully treated and cured me of a very serious and dangerous internal trouble which threatened not only my immediate health, but life (fungus of the stomach).

wasting away and rapidly losing my strength. Under his treatment I sprang into health, have gained in strength and flesh, and am now young again. Dr. Flower is to me a marvel, an unsolved wonder. He is the most fascinating and genial man you ever saw, He is quick and brilliant, and it makes me feel well and young to talk with him." The Worst of Blood Troubles.

Stomach and Catarrh.

J. H. Tucker, a prominent farmer of Lebanon, Conn., said: "Dr. R. C. Flower has cured me of a most serious stomach and bowel trouble, together with aggravated chronic catarrh and nervous prostration. I was in absolute despair when I visited Dr. Flower. I had been disappointed by doctors in their vain attempts to cure me. No sooner did I begin Dr. Flower's treatment than I began to improve; my cure seems miraculous. Look at me; I am in the finest of health; I owe it ail to him. And that is not all. Dr. Flower told me my troubles when I visited him without asking me a question, better than I could have

Malignant Tumor.

Mrs. A. T. Longley, 801 Massachusens avenue, N. E., Washington, D. C., said; "Eight years ago Dr. R. C. Flower, of Boston, cured me of malignant tumor of womb and ovary after all kinds of treatment and operations had failed. He stopped the hemorrhages and removed these eating growths without pain and without the knife." Her husband, A. T. Longiey, the superintendent of government seed department, said he knew of other cures equally

A Rhenmatic Miracle.

Mrs. J. B. Shrier, fr., 81 Spring street, Charleston, S. C., said: "I can truly say that by the skill of Dr. R. C. Flower escaped a most horrible death. I had had rheumatism for eight years, but lately it developed chalky joints. I was informed after being treated by the leading physiclan of this city, that there was no cure for my disease, and that amidst great suffering I would gradually turn to Besides my continual suffering I was belyless, had but little use of any of my limbs, was suffering from insomnia and nervous prostration. In other words, I was a helpless, ruined and abandoned wreck. In this condition I was taken to see Dr. R. C. Flower during one of his visits to Savannaa. Under his treatment I began to improve tely, and to-day I can walk as fast and well as any one; use my limbs freely the swelling in my joints has disappeared I sleep well; my nerves are strong, and my cure is considered by all my friends as a miraculous escape from death." From Helplessness to Perfect Health. Huston Lee, the well-known insurance after the best physicians in our country had failed to give him the slightest relief. A Miraele. Mrs. J. D. Clark, of Jonesboro, Ga., said: "I had a supposed incurable spinal trouble, double curvature, beside other serious and almost fatal troubles, a woman helpless in braces and on crutches. The most prominent physician in Atlanta had treated me, the hospitals had had me for treatment, and they had all given me up as incurable. In this helpless, suffering and dying condition I was taken to Dr. Flower, when, almost as by magic, he restored me to perfect health. I don't pretend to say how son was restored by Dr. R. C. Flower from helplessness to the perfect use of his limbs.

he did it, but he did it." Cancer of the Tongue. Mrs. E. A. Selling, avenue L and Twentysecond street, Galveston, Tex., said: When I first consulted Dr. R. C. Flower, of Boston, I was suffering from a terrible cancer of the tongue, and had given myself up to die, but in a few months Dr. Flower entirely cured me. I am perfectly well today. Everybody who knew my condition look upon my cure as a miracle. Dr. Flower is the most wonderful physician and wonderful man I ever knew. Go into his presence and you feel his power."

Fungus Liver. Joel Huey, president of First National Bank of Corsicans, Tex., said: "Dr. R. C.

Flower is the most wonderful physician I ever knew. He cured me of a fungus cancerous condition of the stomach and liver after numerous physicians had failed to help me and I had been given up to die." The above testimonials are from many of the most prominent, wealthy and influential men and women of this country, They calmly and deliberately say that Dr. R. C. Flower cured them after they had been given up to die, and that if it had not been for Dr. Flower they would have been in their graves. They represent all kinds of business, all professions, all positions of prominence, and nearly all secis the testimony of all, proving Dr. R. C. Flower's almost supernatural power in curing the sick, and that his practice girdles the world. Dr. Flower has established a congress or staff of physicians and is establishing a physician in every State in the Union, These staff physicians are the most skilled and able men (regardless of their school). These staff physicians examine patients, arrange for their treatment and send a written diagnosis of each case to Dr. R. C. Flower. From that time on they are under Dr. R. C. Flower's care, the same as if the doctor had personally examined them himself. Thus Dr. Flower's patients can be examined and re-examined as needed by skilled physicians who are in close touch and communication with the doctor's practice. Dr. Flower spares no expense in making the cure of his patients absolute and complete.
